Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) is recognised internationally as a violation of the human rights of girls and women. FGM has been proven to have a devastating impact on women’s and girl’s emotional, physical, and mental health and well-being.

I pledge to tackle FGM by

- Supporting culture change
- Supporting communities to oppose FGM
- Protecting girls at risk
- Raising awareness
- Supporting women affected by FGM
- Supporting the law

Name ..........................................................................................................

Signed .....................................................................................................