Making a Referral to Adult Social Care 13

Introduction

The Care Act 2014 clearly advocates that adults have the right to live in a safe environment free from abuse or neglect. The Care Act 2014 statutory guidance states the Local Authority must make enquiries, or cause others to do so if they reasonably suspect an adult:

- ▶ has needs for care and support (whether or not the Local Authority is meeting any of those needs); and
- ▶ is experiencing, or at risk of abuse and neglect; and
- ▶ as a result of those care and support needs is unable to protect themselves from either the risk of, or experience of abuse or neglect.

They may be a person who:

- ▶ is elderly and frail due to ill health, physical disability or cognitive impairment;
- ▶ has a learning disability;
- ▶ has a physical disability and/or a sensory impairment;
- ▶ has mental health needs, including dementia;
- ▶ has a long-term illness or condition;
- ▶ misuses substances or alcohol;
- ▶ is a carer (family member/friend) and is subject to abuse;
- ▶ does not have capacity to make a decision and is in need of care and support.

If a decision is made not to refer to the Local Authority, the individual agency must make a record of the concern and any action taken. Concerns should be recorded in such a way that repeated, low level harm incidents are easily identified and subsequently referred. Not referring under Safeguarding Adults' procedures does not negate the need to report to the single agency's regulators/ commissioners where appropriate.

Professionals should also aim to ensure that when working with adults at risk of abuse or neglect that outcomes are focused on what people want and enabling adults to remain in control of their lives wherever possible.

Aim of the Guidance

This guidance is for practitioners in all agencies working with adults with care and support needs in Coventry. The purpose of the tool is to assist practitioners in assessing the seriousness and the level of risk associated with a safeguarding adult concern. The tool will never provide all the answers, nor will it ever take the place of talking to each other, or the exercise of sound professional judgement and good communication. This is not a score or tick document but one to aid decision making but not to make the actual decision.

Practitioners are encouraged to seek advice from their manager and / or their Safeguarding Lead / team if they are unsure how to determine the level of need associated with a safeguarding concern regarding an adult. It is also advisable to make contact with other agencies who are or may have been involved with an adult.

This guidance should always be read in conjunction with the West Midlands Adult Safeguarding Policies and Procedures here: https://www.coventry.gov.uk/downloads/file/31335/west_midlands_adult_safeguarding_policy_and_procedures

Making Safeguarding Personal

Making Safeguarding Personal is enshrined in the Care Act 2014 and the 6 key principles should underpin all adult safeguarding work:

Empowerment

I'm asked what I want from the safeguarding process and this informs what happens.

Accountability

I understand the roles of the people involved in my case.

Prevention

I receive clear and simple information about what abuse is, how to recognise the signs and what I can do to help.

Proportionality

I am sure professionals will work in my interests as I see them and get involved as much as I need them to. I feel I'm supported to manage the risks I want to take.

Protection

I get help and support to report abuse and neglect. I get help so that I'm able to take part in the safeguarding process in a way that I want to.

Partnership

I know that staff treat any personal and sensitive information in confidence, only sharing what is helpful and necessary.
I am confident that professionals will work together with me to get the best results for me.

Practitioners need to consider the 6 key principles when arriving at a decision.
