

Forced Organ Removal

In 2023, a senior Nigerian politician, his wife, and a doctor were convicted of organ trafficking, in the first verdict of its kind under the Modern Slavery Act.

Keep an eye out for the following indicators:

- Has the person been paid for an organ or an organ transplant?
- Is the person in contact with a person or company that organises organ donations abroad?
- Has the person received limited or incorrect information about the risks and details of the procedure?
- Does the person know someone who has donated/sold an organ in the past?
- Does the person lack prior medical screening?
- Has the person been given or signed documents that were not written or explained in a language they understand?
- Has the person reappeared unannounced at their local hospital with an implanted or removed organ?
- Is the person reluctant to share information about where and how the operation took place?
