Please stop allowing our green belt to be eliminated on all sides and ensure that we protect ancient trees, hedgerows and wildlife from destruction, as has been allowed in the Eastern Green developments. These developments were not needed, due to errors in population data, as noted And, if it was to provide low cost housing, why is most of the development just huge and expensive houses being built on small plots with very small gardens, that are very overpriced and overlooked on all sides. Which they are struggling to sell, as have electric pylons in very close proximity. Which was linked to increased cancer rates, so not really surprising. Also, the development of student housing in the city centre also reduced the need for private housing, which opened up more of the property market. We have lost environments we can't get back, so please be more mindful when planning for the future, when our countryside is gone, it's too late.
