Dear Sir/Madam

Request ID: FOI764112973

Thank you for your request for information relating to Policies on bruising in non-mobile infants.

You have requested the following information:

In September 2022 the Child Safeguarding Review Panel issued guidance asking that “all safeguarding partners review their current policies on bruising in non-mobile infants to check for consistency with the evidence base and national guidelines.”

Can you respond to the following:

1. Was there a review of your safeguarding policies after this guidance was published, when was it, and what did it conclude?

Yes the most recent review was 2025 which concluded with policy being updated.

2. Provide any papers that give information on the outcome of this review.

No.

3. Does your policy require a s47 investigation or strategy discussion in all cases

Yes a multi-agency discussion and the injuries should be looked at by a health professional

4. What changes were put in place to provide consistency with the evidence base and national guidelines.

Promoted across the partnership and Practitioners were made aware.

5. Were there changes to your definition of when a child is not independently mobile and how is that now defined – in particular are children who can roll defined as not independently mobile and are children classified as not independently mobile on the basis of age?

A non- mobile baby, or one that has no independent mobility, for the purposes of this guidance is a baby or young child who is unable to move independently through crawling, bottom shuffling, pulling to stand, cruising or walking independently.
