Section 22(1) Information Intended for Future Publication

The information you have requested is exempt from disclosure under Section 22(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, as it is intended for future publication.

The Council publishes information relating to Non-Domestic Rates new liability accounts on its website. At the time of your request, the relevant information had not yet been published but was held with the intention of being published at a future date. The information will be made available via the following webpage when the next publication is released:

Section 22 is a qualified exemption and is therefore subject to the public interest test. Whilst the Council recognises the public interest in the disclosure of information, there is also a public interest in allowing public authorities to publish information in a planned and consistent manner. In this case, the Council considers that the public interest in maintaining the exemption outweighs the public interest in immediate disclosure, given the intention to publish the information shortly through the established publication process.

You can use any information supplied for the purposes of private study and non-commercial research without requiring further permission.
